To the Head of

Dear Head of ,

I am writing you on behalf of the Socrates Almanac - an official edition of the European business, scientific and creative circles, registered and certified in the United Kingdom.

The institution which you effectively rules has shown positive image on the regional level and can proudly stand among the regional science and education elite.

We would be glad to create a personal edition of the Socrates Almanac (monograph) dedicated to your institution, its offers, your researches as well as the researches of your staff. We also offer put your scientific articles and your institution profile to the Socrates Almanac regular edition devoted to the world leading educational establishments. Your institution can be presented with the International award in the science, education and management sphere - The Best Educational Institution.

European Awards Night (on 6 October in Cannes, France) is dedicated to honoring the most successful regional leaders in science, business and culture.

Please contact me for your accreditation for the event and information on Socrates Almanac before September, 4.

I look forward to hearing from you soon in this regard.

Kind Regards,

Anna Walsh,
